Twin Objectives

- Review transport planning and operational delivery arrangements to ensure all major events of national importance in Scotland in 2014 are able to take place successfully, without significant transport issues and damage to Scotland, and Transport Scotland's reputation
- Keep Scotland, and the UK, moving – ensuring ordinary travellers get around, and helping businesses make the most of the opportunities presented by the events in 2014

The Scale of the Games

17 sports

90% of athletes will be less than 20 minutes from their event

4,500 athletes

Almost 600,000 extra trips on the busiest day

11 continuous days of competition

15 events over four Para-Sports

2,000 team officials

3,000 accredited media personnel
1.3 million spectator tickets

20 event venues & 15 sites

15,000 volunteers

Games Family moving around the City for 30 days

71 competing nations and territories

100,000 spectators on peak days

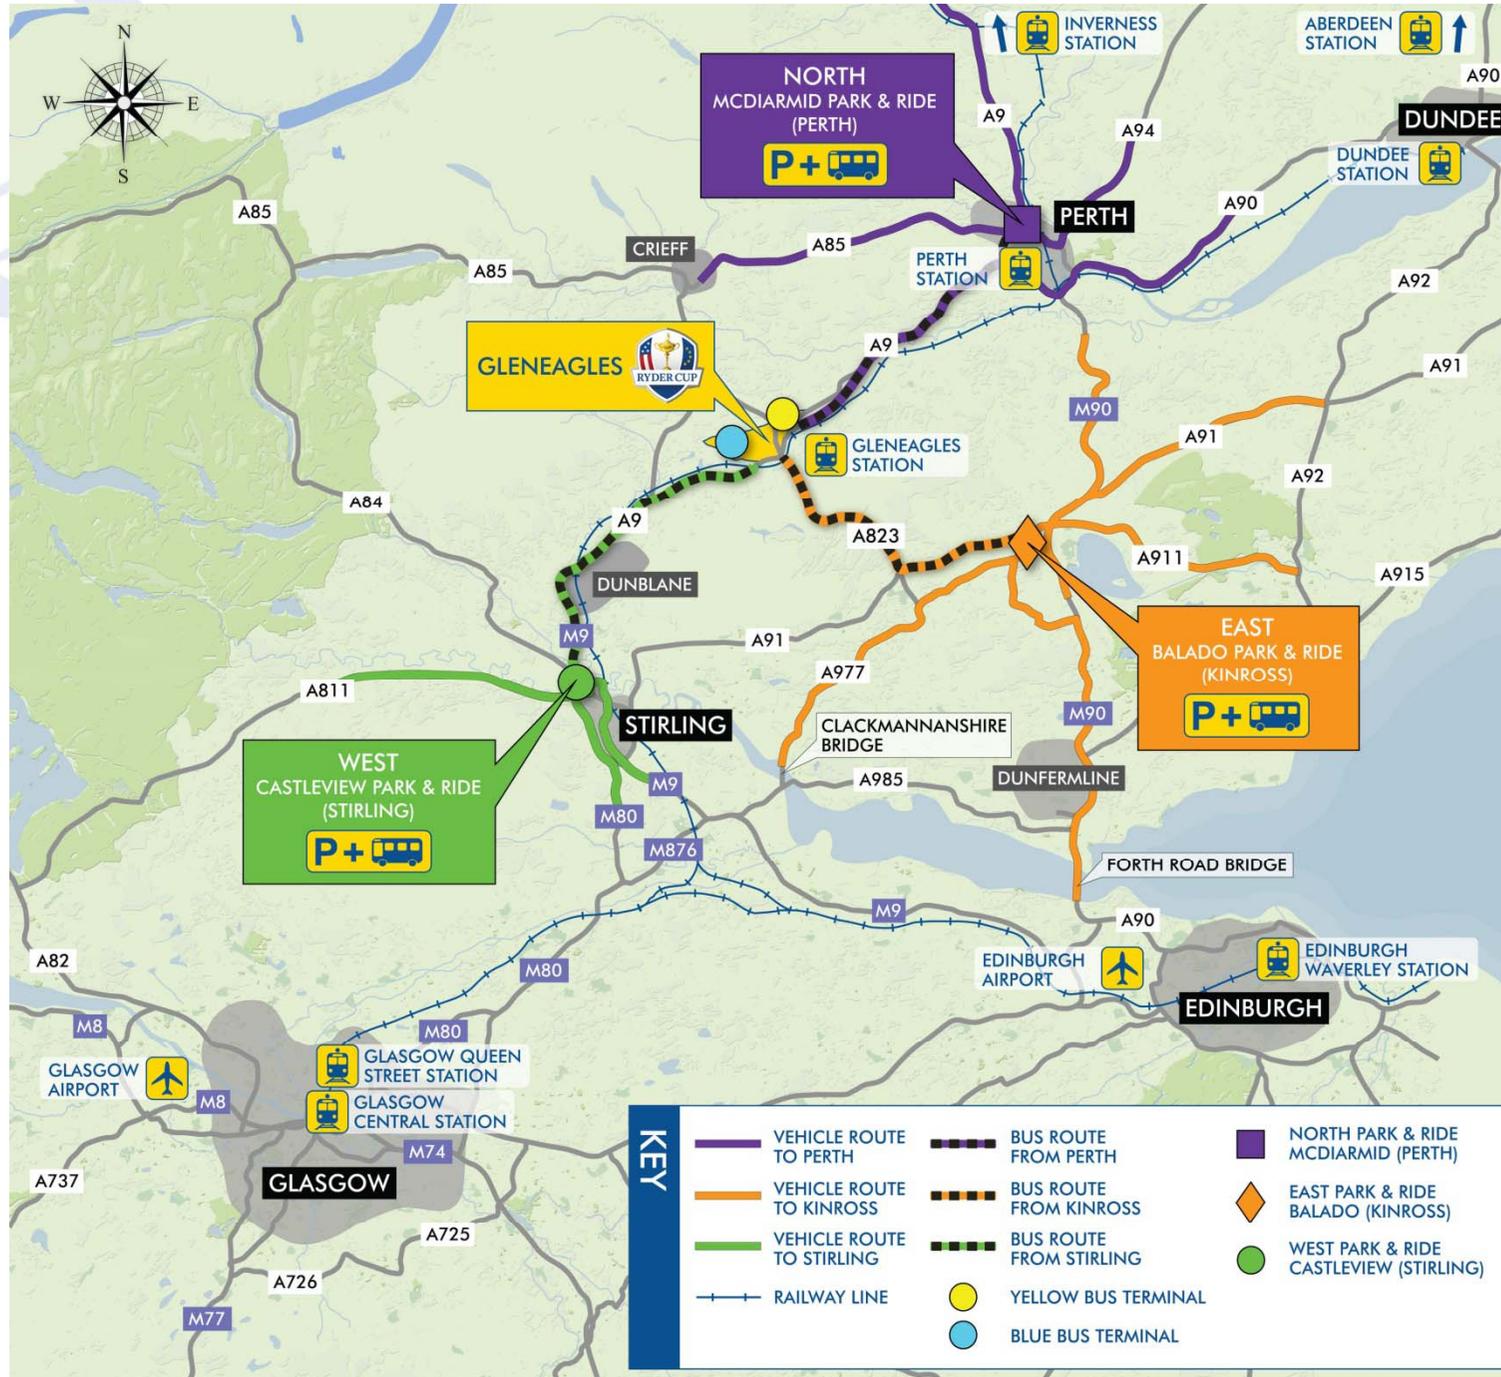

What will Glasgow be like at Games time?

- Imagine 250000 additional people.
Think Hampden, Ibrox, Celtic Park, The Hydro / SECC plus Xmas shopping all happening at the same time!!!!
